LAST WEEK OF LENT

SOCIETY IS BEGINNING TO MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR EASTER.

Custom of Remembering Friends with Gifts-The Noveltles-Function of Last Week.

Another gift season is approaching, that of Easter. It is quite the custom to remember friends and those who have offered courtesies during the winter with a box of flowers or some present. To meet this the shops are filled with beautiful Easter novelties and articles which have come to be considered appropriate. Of course, forconfections most everything is egg-shaped. There are boxes of all kinds, from paper to silk and satin, and variously decorated; egg boxes with the head of some animal peeping from the top, which serves for a cover. Rabbits, ducks, chickens, and even pigs, are used. For the two weeks before Easter the windows are full of every sort of bird, and some ingenious persons have made their ducks, geese, chickens and birds with clothes other than feathers. The bodies are hollow and may be filled with candy or nuts. In some of the places are glass eggs decorated with hand-painted designs and tied with ribbon's bearing the Easter greetings. They may also be filled with candy. One of the odd novelties is a plate or a square of glass painted with flowers having Easter greetings in gilt letters. These are purely ornamental. In the book stores there are quantities of cards with all sorts of Easter sentences and words, but they are not considered as good form as they were a few years ago. Flowers are always acceptable and are considered with candy as appropriate to send, inasmuch as they are not lasting except in sentiment. They may mean much or little. Easter vases are shown by the florists, and they are tall stem glasses, tied with ribbons and decorated with hand-painted flowers. There are also various tied with ribbons and decorated with handpainted flowers. There are also various other receptacles for flowers. A cut-glass vase filled with Easter lilies or any other kind of flowers is a handsome gift. At the brie-a-brac dealers there are scores of exquisite things. Bisque figures sustaining an egg broken at the top, to hold tooth picks, flowers or anything small. There are crystal salt cellars set in fligree silver cups. An egg cup of fine china has a china spoon to match.

Any housekeeper knows that silver will become blackened with egg quicker than with any other edible and will be glad if the china spoon will entirely supersede the silver in the future. A dish for hard boiled eggs or egg salad is a chicken with the back flattened. Individual china roosters with the back cut off have the hollow space for creamed cod fish and they may be set directly in the oven. There are dozens of tiny chicks and goslings ready to be fastiny chicks and goslings ready to be fas-tened to a basket, box or bunch of flowers. Stick pins in egg shape made of white enamel with a tiny gold chicken head peeping out of the top or one side are attractive enough to be very popular. They are not expensive. On the other hand there are new stick pins brought out for Easter that are gems. Turtles, frogs, are in the gold and greens. Then there is such a rage for buckles that they come for everything; buckles for belts and collars, for hat pins and stick pins for the girdle and even for the hair. Tortoise shell side combs are made in buckle form and are pretty too. There are hundreds of varieties of hat pins and they are made so that the end bearing the design will turn and they may be used for the corsage. Pins of gold set with jewels are a part of every fashionable woman's toilet. Girdle lockets were brought out about the holiday season, but they have come again in new designs. The outside has the monogram and the inside holds the photograph of one's dearest friend or better. Dresden pen holders with the daintiest of eatin boxes to hold them are beautiful and suggestive also, especially if the sender lives in some other place. None but a sweet note or letter could be written with such an instrument. A prayer-book clasp is something new. It is of silk elastic fastened with a silver piece having an emblematic design, a rococo order with a cross, a heart and an anchor. There are many articles which have no connection with the Easter idea which will be given for presents. The latest in fans is been so popular in gauze. As these are thicker they will be convenient for the party bag, the pocket and to handle. There have been requests to the Journal about the game, "The Floral Love Tale," as to how it is played. The f. l. t. tells a story thus, for instance: "The name of a girl and the color of her hair (mari-gold) was (sweet) and whose name was (William.) They had a friend whom they called "Jack" and he made his living (in the pulpit.)" The story is regularly arranged. The person who fills in the most blanks with the names of flowers is given a prize, blank spaces being what is contained in the parentheses in the Empire. These are very small, but are beautiful. They come in all colors and tints and are French from the top to the wire which fastens it together. They give more breeze than the huge affairs which have

Easter Sales.

There will be a sale of fancy articles and Easter gifts at the home of Mrs. Henry Schurmann, No. 575 North Pennsylvania street, Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock for the benefit of the Katherine Home for Aged Women

An Easter sale of plain and fancy needlework. Easter souvenirs, cakes, breads, pickles, jellies, candies, etc., will be held Wednesday from 10 in the morning to 10 o'clock in the evening at Roberts Park Church. Refreshments will be served during the sale and supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30. Orders for articles to be delivered April 13 will also be taken. A meeting to complete arrangements for the sale will be held to-morrow afternoon in the parlors of the church at 250 o'clock. The Woman's Business and Social Union will have it in charge.

The Entre Nous Dancing Club will give its final banquet and reception at the Propylaeum, Thursday evening. The club has made elaborate arrangements for the entertaining of guests and club members. Music, dancing and supper will be the features of the evening.

Mrs. Charles Tutewiler entertained the P. A. Euchre Club at her home, on Park avenue, Friday evening. The gentlemen were invited. The favors and score cards were original, being decorated with Brownies; the ice cream and ices were also molded into these fantastic little creatures. On Thursday Mrs. N. W. Bryant was given a surprise dinner by about peventy-five ladies of the Sewing Circle of Hall-place Church. Mrs. Bryant has been the president of the Sewing Circle for several years past and, in appreciation of the success attained under her regime, the visiting ladies presented her with a landscape etching.

Miss Fanny Hess, of this city, and Mr. Clyde Tressel, of Lima, O., were married at Port Huron, Mich., Monday evening by Right Honorable Frank Penny, of Fort Gratoit, Canada. The bride and groom are members of the Gypsy Warde stock company. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Fay Hess, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Tressel will be here to spend the summer with the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cook entertained about fifty of their friends, Monday evening, at their home, on North Noble street, the occasion being their seventh wedding anthe occasion being their seventh wedding anniversary. Progressive cinch was the feature of the evening's amusement. During the serving of refreshments the guests were entertained with mandolin and guitar music by Miss Katie Burris, Miss Carrie Burns and Mr. Haverstick. Mr. and Mrs. Cook received a number of presents.

The library dance to be given at the will be one of the novel entertainments which will attract the friends of those who are to take part and the friends of the Industrial Union, for whose benefit it will be given. There will be about fifty sixty young women masked and dressed in the costume which will best illustrate the title of the book represented. There are to be catalogues and the young men are to select their books by the catalogue name. At the end of a certain time a bell will ring when the books will be returned to the library. A "book" may be renewed. Any one keeping a "book" out longer than the prescribed time will have to pay a fine. Many of the "books" have been given or taken titles. For those who have not selected one Mrs. Bement Lyman, who is chairman of the committee having the dance in charge will be at home to-morrow aftenarman of the committee having the dance in charge, will be at home to-morrow afternoon and she has a long list of books, which require only simple costumes, from which any one who is to be a "book" may choose. Miss Eliza G. Browning will be head librarian and her assistants are to be Mrs. H. H. Howland, Mrs. F. T. Hord, Miss Howland, Miss Adele Wallick, Miss Susan Stewart and Miss Nellie Dilks. There will be two or three rows of seats around Propylaeum Hall for those who wish to look on. At 10 o'clock masks will be removed and dancing will be general. Those who are to receive are Mrs. George F. Adams, Mrs. H. B. Holman, Mrs. C. H. Comstock, Mrs. Bement Lyman and Mrs. C. F. Sayles. The event promises to be one of the most interesting and amusing that has been provided for any charitable purpose. The first lecturer to be brought here by the

The first lecturer to be brought here by the Fortnightly Literary Club was Prof. William Caldwell, of Chicago University, who talked on "The Gospel of Leisure" last evening, at the residence of Mrs. R. B. F. Peirce, on North Meridian street. The company gathered in the ball room, on the third floor, for the lecture. Mr. Caldwell reviewed the hurry and rush of the American from the standpoint of a for-American from the standpoint of a for-eigner. He is sympathetic with the cause, but believes that quite as much might be ccomplished if there was more repose. He reviewed the everlasting hurry in business, the rush of society from one function to another, the desire for membership in clubs, and the impetuous hastening from one to another and the rapid preparation for all these events one after the other. The audience listened attentively and evidently appreciated the truth of what was said. Americans know they rush and feel that it would be a desirable thing to have leisure, but the onward movement is so strong and the propelling force is so un-mistakable that there seems to be no way of stemming the tide. After the paper the of stemming the tide. After the paper the company was given an opportunity of meeting Professor Caldwell in the drawing room. Mr. and Mrs. Peirce, with their guests, Professor and Mrs. Bradley, of Evanston, who accompanied Mr. Caldwell down, were presented by the president of the Fortnightly Literary Club, Mrs. Jacoby, assisted by Miss Van Valkenberg, through whose instrumentality Mr. Caldwell was brought, Mrs. J. P. Dunn, Miss Elizabeth Dye, Mrs. Charles N. Thompson and Miss Malott. Ices were served in the dining room by Mrs. Carstensen, Mrs. Edward Dean, Mrs. E. R. Keith. Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Ray, Miss Kate Malott, Mrs. Doney and Miss Macy, of Massachusetts. There were Bermuda lilies in the drawing room, pink roses and carnations drawing room, pink roses and carnations in the other rooms and the dining rooms, and pink tulips in the ballroom. An orchestra played while the company was assembling and after the lecture and reception for an informal dance. There was a large number of the club members and their

The "Convention" will be held on the 18th Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brown, of Grand Rapids, Mich., came, last week, to visit Mrs. Brown's parents, Professor and Mrs. William Thrasher. Mrs. Brown will sing at the Downey-avenue Church this morning. The men of the Sigma Chi fraternity entertained a number of their friends on Tuesday night, at the home of J. S. Butler. The house was decorated in the blue and gold of the fraternity and music was furnished by harp and violin. Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Clark entertained the Sheridan Dramatic Club, at their home on Central avenue. Thursday evening. Howells's farce, "The Mouse Trap," was very amusingly presented. Misses Josephine Smith, Mary Galvin and Jessie Ludlow and Mr. Fred Ritter taking the principal characters. The Dramatic Club repeated their play "Esmeralda," at the chapel, last night, for the benefit of the College Athletic Association.

What Made Her Sweeter. Ney York Tribune.

"Don't you think I look sweeter than I sed to look?" asked Evelyn (a most origused to look?" asked Evelyn (a most original little mortal) of her former nurse. "Why, yes," answered the latter. "Do you know what makes it?" demanded the child. "No, my dear, what is it?" and the infant answered; "Thoughts of Jesus and the new way I wear my hair."
